Hi there,

Due to the uncertainty surrounding the Coronavirus, there could be disruption to you accessing your favourite cheeses. This may be due to self-imposed isolation, government requests to stay indoors or even the market itself not being able to take place following an instruction from the council.

We're trying to keep routines as normal as possible so we at The Little Yorkshire Cheese Stall have been trying to think of how we can best serve you in these circumstances.

Therefore, as long as our producers and suppliers are able to keep operating, we would like to offer a home delivery service for those who are unable to get to the market but would still like to enjoy some cheese. We will only be able to deliver in the relative immediate area surrounding the market.

Please note, we will still be trading at the market in our cheese trailer so for those who can make it to the market, we'll see you as usual.

We intend to delivery on your usual market day. Delivery is free and there is no minimum size order. Just let us know at least two days before market day and we can get it ready for you and let you know how much that would cost. Payment can be made upon delivery by cash, debit card, credit card, PayPal or bank transfer, whichever suits you best.

Obviously these are new times for all us and we can only make this work as long as the farms themselves can still get their cheeses to us. So at this early stage we are not sure if this idea is 100% viable, but with the situation changing so quickly we may not have time to speak to you again before we know how things could work over the coming weeks and months.

So if you are unable to come back to the market for any reason, please make contact with us by calling or emailing anytime and we'll be able to advise further if and when we can deliver.

Many thanks
Claire and Gareth
